Cleanliness.

Many diseases cause infection of the sputum or sputal. When this infected sputum is deposited where it may evaporate, dry, and turn to dust, the little particles of dust contain the germs of the disease in question. This dust is carried about from place to place in the house by currents of air and may serve to infect those who breathe it. The mumps, scarlet fever, diphtheria, diseases spread thru the sputum, cerebro-meningitis, infantile paralysis, influenza, tonsillitis and others.

When speaking of cleanliness, it should be understood that this germ-bearer dust is the dirt that is to be dreaded. Cleanliness, then, means care in the guarding of bacteria and in preventing the spread of bacteria by excreta. The ordinary dirt such as the soil ashes, etc., which is brought into the house on the feet or is blown in, is practically harmless.

The Broader View.

The home rule horizon in St. Louis is broader than the rim of a beer glass. The issue concerns larger things. Chiefly, it touches the ability of this great city to manage its own affairs, to spend its own money, to direct its own destiny.

Any effort to confuse the lid question with the broad home rule question is born of ignorance or stubbornness as to the country member of the Legislature and "narrowness on the part of the city member.

The city member who asks for home rule with only the lid in mind is not a fair representative of his constituency.

The country member who does not look into the subject with care fails of his public duty.

The disinterested committees that have visited Jefferson City have pleaded for home rule in the matter of the Police and Excise offices on the broader ground that St. Louis, in a measure, at least, should take care of itself.

It is not fair to Mr. Carleton, or to Mr. Capen, or to Mr. Shapleigh, to say that these gentlemen are interested in opening a Sunday saloon!

It is an attack upon the intelligence of most of the members of the Legislature to intimate that these gentlemen and many hundreds of others like them, a majority of whom are serious-minded churchmen, are seeking to make the first day of the week one of ribaldry rather than a day of rest and harmless recreation.

We have been interested in the attitude of Mr. Hay of Callaway County who seems to be, by reason of his capacity, the Democratic leader in the House. We trust that Mr. Hay, in his position of leader, will be able to separate the wheat from the chaff, that he will be able to separate in his own mind, the billingsgate and the arguments of self-interest, from the sober, undecorated statements of honest St. Louis business men.

There is no objection to home rule with a gubernatorial string to it.

There is no reason to believe that the next Legislature will fail to repeal any home rule bill that proves unsatisfactory.

There is no honest desire on the part of a majority of people in this city for home rule that will produce a disorderly Sunday.

The simple truth is that self-appointed losses and reformers have confused the issue. We trust that this confusion will not obscure the clear vision of Mr. Hay of Callaway County, or the minds of Senate leaders and Gov. Major when they reach the point of deciding whether they will stand upon the home rule plank of the party platform or dodge the issue. —St. Louis Republic.
